

Scandinavian photography

The new search site linkimage.com was recently launched. During a couple of months we have been working on a new site which gives the visitor inspiration, is easy to search and is focused on contemporary photography. The site is searchable in both English and Swedish and presents the images in a generous way. We proudly present 43 of Sweden's leading photographers, all of them with strong identity in their niche. Here you may find everything from internationally well known names as Hans Gedda and Frederik Lieberath to a photographer like Björn Keller (whose image from Fårö/Sweden is presented in this newsletter).

If you have questions or need help to find the right image, please contact one of our two picture editors, Christian Svorono or Mia Bengtsson Plynning.

Kindest regards from Link Image.
