

New images

An archive in motion demands renewal and news that brings new experience of photography and inspires the visitor. The strength of Link Images archive is our marvellous photographers and the unique possibility to be working close to them. Even if the times are good for photography right now, with a lot of assignments around the world, Link Images photographers are constantly serving the archive with new images. Our 500 latest images are presented under the department photography and new images on www.linkimage.com.

In our collection you can find everything between a series of close portraits of wolves by photographer Hans Gedda, beautiful summer views from Gotland by Katarina Grip Höök to warm family stories in black and white made by Tobias Regell.
